
Learning Objectives

MedBridge

Measuring and Improving Outcomes in Post-Acute Care

Ellen R. Strunk, PT, MS, GCS, CEEAA

Chapter 1: Present Healthcare Environment

- Examine the current state of rehabilitation outcomes and utilization measurement

Chapter 2: Medicare is Changing

- Understand how rehabilitation outcomes and utilization measurements are changing

Chapter 3: Home Health and Medicare B

- Understand the significance of the shift in home health case mix weight
- Review services provided under Medicare Part B

Chapter 4: Today: What Do We Have?

- Discuss improvements that can be made to PAC measurements of quality

Chapter 5: What is Next?

- Identify the benefits to education and training in outcomes measurement at every level of rehabilitation delivery

Chapter 6: Where Do We Go From Here?

- Understand the urgency of developing outcome measures, collecting data, and analyzing the information to create the value proposition for rehabilitation services

Chapter 7: Today and Tomorrow

- Examine the analytics of outcomes and what value they can bring to your patient practice